

Tomato egg rice

Serves 6 | Main | Prep 15 min | Cook 20 min

INGREDIENTS

9 large Eggs / 1.2 kg Ripe tomatoes / 45 g Scallions / 30 mL Neutral oil / 120 mL Water / $\frac{3}{4}$ tsp Salt / 1 tsp Sugar, optional / 1.2 kg Cooked rice

METHOD

1. Wash tomatoes and cut into wedges. Slice scallions and beat eggs with half the salt.
2. Heat half the oil in a large pan over medium heat. Add eggs, gently fold into soft curds and cook until set; transfer to a plate.
3. Add remaining oil and tomatoes. Cook for 3–4 minutes, stirring, until they release juice.
4. Add water, remaining salt and optional sugar. Cover and simmer 5–7 minutes until tomatoes soften.
5. Return eggs to the pan, fold gently and heat through for 1–2 minutes. Scatter over scallions.
6. Serve in six bowls over hot cooked rice.

KITCHEN NOTE

Avoid high heat after adding eggs back; it can make the curds rubbery.
