

Steamed Ginger Soy Cod

Serves 6 | Main | Prep 15 min | Cook 30 min

INGREDIENTS

900g Cod fillets / 40g Fresh ginger, julienned / 50g Scallions, sliced / 60mL Light soy sauce / 45mL Neutral oil / 10g Sugar / 30mL Water / 20g Cilantro / 450 g Uncooked white rice / 600 mL Water for rice / 600 g Broccoli florets

METHOD

1. Prepare a steamer setup by bringing a large pot of water to a boil. Cook the measured rice and rice water according to package instructions while preparing the fish.
2. Pat the cod fillets dry and place them on a heat-proof plate that fits inside your steamer.
3. Top the fish evenly with half of the ginger and half of the scallions.
4. Place the plate in the steamer, cover tightly, and steam for 8-10 minutes or until the fish reaches 145°F / 63°C. Avoid overlapping fillets; use two batches if the steamer is small. Steam broccoli on a separate rack or after the fish for 5-7 minutes until tender.
5. In a small saucepan, combine soy sauce, sugar, and water; simmer until sugar dissolves.
6. Remove fish from steamer, discard the excess liquid on the plate, and top with the remaining ginger and scallions.
7. Heat the neutral oil until shimmering, then remove it from the heat. Carefully spoon it over the ginger and scallions, keeping your hands away from any splashes.
8. Drizzle with the warm soy sauce mixture and garnish with cilantro before serving. Divide fish, rice and broccoli among six plates.

KITCHEN NOTE

Use fresh, firm-fleshed white fish for the best texture. Developed for Real Family. Not kitchen-tested.
